A Romantic Episode. A romantic episode in every-day life has just come to light in Dedham John Finn resides with his wife and a portion of his family in a neat cottage, of which he is the owner, located on or near the boundary line of Dedham and Boston. Here he had lived for at least twenty boundary line of Dedham and Boston. Here he had lived for at least twenty-five years. He had three sons, one of whom, John, enlisted in the army, during the "late unpleasantness," and was killed. The other two sons were named Cornelius and William. Cornelius was a lad of seventeen years at the outbreak of the war. He suddenly left town, and his parents hearing nothing of his whereabouts concluded that he, too, had enlisted, especially as during the war they read of one Cornelius Finn, attached to a New York regiment, being killed. The family monried for him as sincerely as they did for John.

Recently, William went to Colonado to settle hoping to better himself. While seated in a room in the Western portion of the State, one afternoon, soon after his arrival, there, a miner entered and announced to the company present that Cornelius Finn had opened a new mine William, taken allack somewhat by the name, said he had had a brother once whose name was Conclius Finn. There is nothing new under the sun, said the prophet, and every day's experience brings proof of the truth of the observation. Pharicas in is not a new phase in religion or politics, and if the Artful Dodger thinks he has invented a new mode of advertising his assumed superior ity of virtue he is mistaken. In a certain old book there is a parable concerning two men who went up into the temple to pray, and the one boastfully informed the Deity that he felt exceedingly gratified with himself because of his saperior virtue; that he even thanked God that he was not as wicked as other men of his acquaintance. But the histor an of the event asserts that this man was not justified in the eyes of Ominjolence. So it has been even from that time to the present. The Pharsee, who seeks to administer consolation to his own accusing conscience by publicly assuming vertices that he wally thumping up against the chin, does not presert veldom supposeds in deceiving anylooly, and finds himself forcing the wearer to maintain a look branded as a hypocrite in the end. and accuses others of being loss in this fashion of starch. A tall, stout gentleman, with irongray side whiskers, accompanied by a tall, slender, smooth-faced gentle man, alighted from a Third avenue elevated train about 11-20 o'clock yesterday, and they walked together to the foot of Whitehall street. Here they were met by General Hancock, who grasped the tall, stout gentle man's hand and said, "Good morning, Mr. President." The three-President Arthur, his son, and General Hancock-entered the gate at Governor's Island landing, passing through two lines of policemen, and boarded the revenue cutter Atlantic, which set out for Governor's Island.

Twenty one guns announced the president's arrival there. He was joined by his brother, Major Arthur, and by Colonel Gunther and Lieutenant Mills. General Hancock en tertained the president and his son at the island for two hours. They then re embarked for the city. A crowd of 500 people, attracted by the police awnited the president's reappearance at the battery. Scarcely any one had witnessed his departure. He came out of the gate escorted by General Hancock, and walked to his earringe New York Sun.

It is odd that Troy, which uses more starch and laundries more hoiled rags than other city in Christendom, should denounce starching and the wearing of starched goods as a device of the devil to give us a part of our punishment as we go along. The outbreak is in Senator MacAr thur's Northern Budget, and a little of it reads as follows:

Starched linen for the bosom, the neck, and the wrists, is objectional ble in every way we may consider it. It entails a great outlay for original application, and even after the first wearing of it hard labor must be an plied to produce the end and object it is intended to subserve. In warm weather the starch readily disselves by coming into contact with perspiration, and after a few moments of exercise a sensation of clamminess and stickiness disgusts the wearer. OUR COUNTY FAIR.

Lips, Repertureant Tuesday morning Sept. 5th, 1882, will open our county fair for the year. In order that the people of the county may be more fully informed as to the manner in which it will be conducted, and the general policy of the Board of Directors I desire to set forth in a brief article a few points of information encerning it.

The Macon County Agricultural Board is composed of mine directors and the ounty board of supervisors, ex-officio, the representative men of the county. The annual fairs held under and by their direction are purely for the purpose of placing on exhibition the products of our usbandmen, mechanics and artisms, and giving our tradesmen an opportunity of displaying their wares. Certainly a worthy cause. The Board has taken great pams in revising and publishing the list for this year, offering in each department large and liberal premiums, intentionally omitting nothing worthy of a place. Quite a large and liberal list of Special Premiums have been generously offered by our citizens larger than is given by any other the head of the rebel government county in the state amounting to nearly $500. The drive ways and speed ring are being worked, the amphitheatre, buildings and stalls repaired, so that the safety and comfort of all is assured. The Board are anxious that the people bring whatever they have, and compete for the large payment of premiums, after deducting a fact. The value of corn exported expenses. No entrance fee will be chargnaurder and outrage by gangs of et in any department, except for speed. The admission fee being no larger than is charged for such exhibitions elsewhere. No intoxicating drinks will be allowed on the grounds, and no gambling devices lifty-one millions, against seventyfrom Cheetaw county, Alabama, permitted. There is nowhere in the west to be found grounds which have such discovered, showing a plot on the natural attractions, with its shady banks and pure sparkling springs of limpid

His sermon was fiting and preparatory for the anticipated ting and preparatory for the autrepated dedication of the clurch the following Similar. On Thursday evening Rev. W. F. T. Sprindl, of Waverly, preached a semion that infolded the doctrine of "a pure heart" in a satisfactory manner. He mysted persons to come to the altar of prayer, and nearly forty bowed in humble consecration. Saturday exeming Rev. J. P. Dunwitt preached a sermon long to be remembered, about the "thood Shepherd." Sunday, Aug. 20, was a day set apart for the reopening of the church that has been beautified and enlarged this year. School suited to the innocent tastes of the tribal nobility, would not be the correct thing in the court of St. James. The courters of the king have accord asked for was lifted by the members and asked for was lifted by the members and triends of the church. At 3 p. m. a concourse of children and others assembled for their meeting. At 8 p. m. the church was opened and soon filled to its utmost with the best people of town. There was communion service and sermon, conducted by Bro. Dimmitt, and the people were all well pleased. The Methodists and friends look happy over the enterprise. In Political and Other News.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Secretary Chandler is expected to return from his tour of the navy yards early next meek. From information received here it is considered probable that he will decide to begin work at once upon the uncompleted Puritan, at Roach's yard at Philadelphia, and Coekenbeck, of Chicago.

"Engineering for Drainage," Prof. J. O. that she will be afform in two months. The Paritan, begun by Robeson's orders, has been lying in the most eligible portion of Roach's yard for seven years, and he is naturally auxious to get her out of the way and get the remainder of his money. Robeson is equally anxious, for it has been charged so loudly and so long that the Puritan will not float when she gets into the water, that he is anxious for a vindication. Plans for the completion of the work are all ready, and the secretary will probably issue his orders as soon as he returns. It is stated, by those who ought to know, that the secretary will decide not to close any Representatives of the Mexican government here are informed that work upon the new Mexican railway system, connecting the City of Mex ico and the entire republic with the United States, will now be pushed forward rapidly. The bonds of the ompany are guaranteed by the republic of Mexico, and ten million dolars' worth of them have recently heen negotiated in England. The commissioners sent to make this sale came back with half the money in their pockets, and the remainder they expect to obtain in a few months. The road is now ready miles north from the City of Mexico, and at this end the rails will soon be laid as far as Monterey. It is expected that the road will be completed and trains running from New York to the City of Mexico by about the end of the year 1883.

The attack made upon Mr. Long, the American representative at Alexwhich certainly places it in the hands of andria, by the Egyptians, has caused considerable comment in diplomatic Mr. Long, who was the subject of the outrage, is simply acting consular agent, and has only been occupying that position for a very short time. Yet he has been very highly complimented for his discretion and valor exhibited during the early part of the troubles there. Whether this attack upon him calls for any action on the part of the government can not be determined. Should it appear that it was in any way authorized by there, it will doubtless be the occasion of some diplomatic action. Until that can be determined, however. no steps will be taken further than to obtain all the facts in the case. this country continue to fall far beduring the seven months ending July 31, was but eight millions of dollars, against nearly twenty nine millions in the same time last year. The value of the wheat exported was six millions in the corresponding time of 1881. The value of flour exported during seven months of this year was twenty millions of dollars, against twenty five millions in the same period last year. The total exports of breadstuffs for the period indicated were fifty millions more in value last year than in this. Those for July of this year are nearly four millions less than those of July, 1881. Those who have studied the crops and the crop prospects for the present season, however, believe that we shall regain in 1883 much of what we lost in 1882. California, the only part of the country which increased its exports in this line this year, promises even better things for 1883. The wheat crop, according to the es timutes of the Department of Agriculture, is the best that we have had for several years. Outs are ditto. The corn crop now, unless interfered with by frost, is set down at 1,750. 000,000 bushels. Missouri, it is estimated, will furnish more corn this year than any other State, her erop being put at 225,000,000 bush els. Kansas and Texas are each set down for 200,000,000. Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska are estimated at 150,000,000 to 175,000,000 each, and all through the South the quantity of corn and wheat raised is much greater than in former years. Washington, Aug. 22. -- An award of numbers of the new 3 per cent. bonds can hardly be made before Friday, and possibly not till next week. Secretary Folger is expected here to morrow, but certain minor questions in connection with these bonds will have to be disposed of lafore an allotment can be made. The questions relate principally to tech niculities.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 22.-The Supreme Lodge of the World, Knights of Pythias, convened in this city to-day. The event was made the occasion of a grand gathering of the members of the order from all parts of the country. Up to midnight about 1,500 Knights had reached the city, and as many more round trip, $15.00, tickets good for forty are expected to-day. There is to be a grand parade, all the visiting ther particulars call on bodies being escorted by a local meeting of battalions this afternoon. A grand band prize contest takes place this evening. To morrow there will be a prize drill. The lodge is expected to remain in session for cral days. ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 22-Delegates to Republican state convention were elected to-day. They are not instructed, but are understood to be anti-Cornell. In the second district a resolution indorsing the president's administration was adopted, and one indorsing Governor Cornell was defeated by a large majority. In the third district a resolution was adopted approving the president's veto of the river and harbor bill and condemning the representatives who voted to pass it over the veto.

Sforv Falls, D. T., August 22.-Our grain harvest is now about over The expectations of the most sanguine are reached by the results, and when the promised immense corn and potato crops are secured, the best season Dakota has ever enjoyed will be over. Several farmers in this vicinity report thirty bushels to the acre of A i wheat on farms of 100 acres or more.

Missorm has got to account for its awlessness, and so tells this story "A nude colored woman, as wild as gorrilla, is startling the people of Marvel section of Missouri. She has been seen several times, and the last time threw a young lady who was horseback riding into hysteria, and with a grant, not unlike that of a wild hog, jumped up and ran into the forest. At the time of her dis covery she was burrowing into the side of the road, catching and eating crawfish, which she ate, claws, hide for the rails for a distance of 200 and all. She is very black, and foams at the mouth when angry, like a wild animal at bay."

An aristocratic lady asked Miss Sedgwick, when she was in England, if there were any old trees in Amerca, adding, CO, I beg pardon, your country has not been settled long enough for that." The anecdote reminds one of a dinner at the Lord Mayor's, where a lady from New circles here and also in naval circles. | York city was astonished by her neighbor at table saying, "I suppose you often walk out on the prairies."

A DAZZLING PAGEANT. The Forepaugh Parade-Gala Day in Decatur-Thousands of People in the City.

As was repeatedly predicted, many thousand visitors from different parts of the county and from towns in neighboring counties are in Decatur to-day to see one of the few "greatest shows on earth." The great Forepaugh circus and menagerie, which arrived here from Danville this morning on special trains. The streets were literally packed with people this forenoon to witness the DAZZLING PAGEANT.

It was a stonner. There never was such a prodigal magnificence of gorgeous trappings, splendid appointments, glittering chariots, sweet music, and all the extras which go to make up a grand spectuenlar parade, as was shown by the King showman to-day. There were sumptuous chariots, such as one might imagine the conquering Cæsar occupying as he rode in triumphal procession through the streets of Rome, drawn by monstrous elephants, whose majestic bearing thrilled the spectators and recalled visions of oriental feasts. Three grand martial bands calivened the scene with strains of sweet music, the renowned military orchestra cading the van in the classical car of the muses, adorned with artistic statute representations of Clio, Melpomene, Polytyminia, Thalia, Urania, Euterpe, Erato and Calliope, followed by the Shipisis cornet band seated in a car of seasons, drawn by snow white steeds, occupied a position near the centre of the long line. There was over one mile of grand display, including enge after cage of wild beasts exposed to the public gaze, all new and brilliant in gorgeous adornings of the were first intimidated and afterwards painter's art. The musical steam orchestrion, rendering popular tunes along the between the old man and the boys can ] route, attracted universal attention. To-MORROW evening Billy Rice, the comedian, whose reputation is international, will meet his old admirers at the opera house, backed up by his own company of recognized artists, in a brilliant minstrel performance. The well-known names mentioned in the advertisement in another column should be sufficient to iraw a crowd. The minstrel band will give a free street parade to morrow.

ABOUT ten couples, in side-but buggies and roomy carriages, visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Allen, in Harristown township, on yesterday afternoon and participated in a picnic. All had a happy time, and closed the round of festivities by assembling at the home of Miss Ida Bering last night, where all remained until a late hour.

They are going to have a big time at Peoria on September 7th, when the new Grand Opera House there will be dedicated by the Emma Abbott company. On Monday afternoon 284 seats were sold for $2832, the price ranging from $6 to $20. Each of the hoxes were sold for from $50 to $150. The opera house cost nearly one hundred thousand dollars, and is a spacious and elegant structure.

THE last work is performed by the man who is sound in body and cheerful in spirit. Hence to make him so he must be supplied with good living wages and reasonable hours of labor; for relief from excessive toil will produce more, and produce a kinder feeling, and is calculated to demonstrate the principles of the brotherhood of the race.

There is a story, now generally regarded as fabulous, that a female named Joan (others say Galberta or Agnes) of English descent, but born in Ingelheum, or Mainz, Germany, fell in love with a young Benedictine monk named Felda, and in order to be admitted into the Monastery of Fulda, where he was cloistered, assumed male attire. She afterward went with him to Athens, where he died while they were pursuing their exempted for family or educational reasons, five or six are set aside for auxil ary service because of minor bodily defects, nine extra small and weak make are put back for two years, and twelve are declared totally unfit for service tered, assumed male attire. She afterward went with him to Athens, where he died while they were pursuing their studies. Soon after this she went to itome, where her great learning broughther into distinction, and from a successful career as a professor she was elected by general consent of the college of Cardinals to be the successor of Pope Leo IV., who died A. D. 895. Others say she was the immediate successor of Pope Adman II, who died A. D. 872. Her title was Pope John VIII, a title which in the Roman Notizie, or official calendar of the Roman pontifis, is ascribed to a different person. It is further related of this "female Pope" that she administered the pontifical office with great ability until her sex was discovered by her giving birth to a male child durare declared totally muit for service. Thus we have the significant fact that the large proportion of twenty-seven per cent. of the young men of France are, at the age of twenty, more or less physically unfitted for military service. The standard of education may be judged standard of education may be judged. from the fact that one in every seven reeruits can neither read not write. Ten eruits can neither read not write.
